1. Czechoslovakia is continuing to move a considerable portion of its military production facilities toward the east. The Mostaren plant at Brezno nad Hronom (Z 49/D 16) will allegedly become one of the production centers. It is planned that the CKD-Stalingrad plant in Prague VIII will produce only the older types of tanks, plus parts for the German World War II Tigers and Panthers still used by the Czech Armored Forces.
2. The Skoda ammunition plant at Adamov, near Brno, is now producing types of ammunition not used by the Czech armed forces. It is believed that the plant is producing ammunition for Soviet rocket launchers not yet in use in Czechoslovakia.
3. One of the number one priorities for the Czech Air Force is the construction of sufficient numbers of special vehicles needed to haul jet aircraft of the MIG-15 type to and from the airport runways. Present supplies of such vehicles are allegedly inadequate.

During the month of January 1953 some 10,000 workers were to be inducted into the Czech armed forces. However, this group was not to be assigned to the regular units of the armed forces, but used to build up the strength of the auxiliary technical battalions (Pomocny technicky prapor - PTP).
